Old Business

- Dave Just reported that he still plans to install a tray on a pilot station but has not gotten to it yet.
- When Steve Brown went to the Honda dealer to purchase the Honda deck lift lever spring assembly, but the dealer said that he didn't have any and didn't know when or if Honda would be making any more. Steve procured a used one on Ebay and a compatible drive belt. This resulted in a price tag of $79.63 instead of approximately $190. The Lift assembly has been installed and the belt is awaiting the forthcoming failure of the previous one.
